

ISGsites

Give committees and other types of working teams their own private online workspaces that make it easier to communicate, share resources, and collaborate on projects. Access is automatically provided to the appropriate resources based on information in iMIS, so everyone sees exactly what they are supposed to see (and nothing else).

- Document management and sharing with versioning, advanced search, and check-in/check-out controls.
- Announcements, agendas, minutes, discussion forums, blogs, wikis, surveys, and more.
- Special-purpose calendars with events filtered by location, audience, and type.
- Dashboards that make it easy to keep track of important statistics (drawn from iMIS).
- MySites personal profile pages, with photos, biographies, contact information, interests and skills, as well as links to the user's involvement with the association, providing an association-centric way for members to network professionally and confidentially.

ISGsites is built using the power of Microsoft SharePoint 2010, and is tightly integrated with iMIS.

Committee Workspaces

Committees tasked with preparing an official document, such as a set of bylaws or industry standards, have an online workspace where they can collaborate in finding resources, compiling texts, editing, and other coordinated efforts over time. A document workspace provides a place to track tasks, milestones, resources, announcements, comments and other shared lists.

Automated workflows can be configured to alert team members of action items and developments, route documents through the team for approval and feedback, update the task list based on completion of certain online actions and move the completed document to a shared library when finalized.

Chapter Leader Workspace

Chapter leaders get their own workspace to manage their chapter's activities and events. They can post their own announcements, and create wikis, blogs, surveys, agendas, minutes, and discussion forums to encourage chapter member participation.

Delivered in the Cloud

ISGsites for iMIS is delivered as a hosted solution using cloud infrastructure and Software as a Service (SaaS) technology. Associations can take advantage of the Microsoft SharePoint 2010's powerful collaboration and document management capabilities, which ISGsites uses, without investing in SharePoint.

Special Interest Group (SIG) Workspaces

Each SIG workspace site template includes document libraries, discussion forums, blogs, surveys, news feeds, group calendar, document search, and a searchable membership directory. SIG rosters can be tracked within iMIS using membership section codes, demographics, or any other list-defining type of query. Workspaces also support collaboration associated with meetings. Each meeting workspace includes a web part for announcements, attendees, agendas and minutes, and shared references.

Executive Workspaces

Give executives and managers a business intelligence workspace where they can get access to the statistics they need at a glance. Dashboards can be customized with a variety of web parts to provide the latest iMIS data in a highly visual and easy-to-understand way. View the number of members by category, meeting registrations, exhibitor revenue, and analyze percentages to identify important trends and opportunities.
